Section 1: A Supportive Place to Start

The PATH to Care Center (Confidential Resource)
(PATH is an acronym that stands for prevention, advocacy, training, healing)

Affirming, empowering, confidential support for those who have experienced sexual harassment, emotional abuse, dating and intimate partner violence, sexual assault, stalking, and sexual exploitation. Advocates bring a non-judgmental, caring approach to exploring options, rights, accommodations, medical care, and other resources. Advocacy services and consultations are available to all current and former UC Berkeley staff, faculty, students, visitors, anyone who has been impacted by someone affiliated with UC Berkeley, and more.

Section 2: Introduction

This quick guide covers resources for employees (postdocs, staff, and faculty) of UC Berkeley who have experienced harm related to sexual violence and sexual harassment (SVSH) or who are supporting others. Some resources below are designated Confidential, others are offices of record. Survivors do not need to formally report to campus or the police, nor do they have to share anything they do not want to share, to receive confidential support. If you are unsure of where to start or have any questions about confidentiality and privilege, contact the PATH to Care Center.

In an emergency, dial 911.

Section 6: Medical Services

Individuals may wish to seek medical care to treat injuries, get tested for exposure to sexually transmitted infections, or preserve forensic evidence. You can call the Care Line to speak with a confidential advocate, who can coordinate transportation to a healthcare facility and accompany you throughout the process to provide support. Though otherwise confidential, medical staff are required to report to the police any physical evidence of a violent crime observed during a physical exam. Full emergency care; approved site for forensic evidence collection after sexual assault or relationship violence. Evidence collection costs are covered for survivors of sexual and relationship violence.

Highland Hospital

Full emergency care; approved site for forensic evidence collection after sexual assault or relationship violence. Evidence collection costs are covered for survivors of sexual and relationship violence.

24/7 Phone: 510-437-4800 | Website | Address: 1411 E 31st St, Oakland, CA 94602

Section 7: Evidence Collection

Forensic evidence collection is a police process to collect and preserve possible evidence of a crime, and can only be done at approved sites in the county where the incident occurred. If a survivor of relationship violence or sexual assault is considering pursuing criminal charges, it is best if evidence collection occurs in the first 72 hours, the earlier the better. For best evidence collection, if possible:

- Leave the area where the harm occurred undisturbed.
- Place each clothing item in a separate paper bag (no plastic).
- Resist the urge to shower, bathe, wash hands, eat, drink or brush teeth.

Section 8: Obtaining A Protective / Restraining Order

Survivors have the option to request a protective/restraining order from the civil division of the Superior Court at any time. These civil court orders protect survivors who have experienced or are in fear of physical violence, sexual assault, and/or stalking by another individual. The Family Violence Law Center can help with this process, and can be contacted 24/7 at 800-947-8301.

Section 9: Responsible Employees

Confidential Resources (see reverse) exist so that survivors can seek support and discuss options without the obligation to report to authorities. According to the UC SVSH Policy, any University employee who is not a Confidential Resource is a Responsible Employee, with a reporting obligation. Responsible Employees include, for example, Resident Assistants, GSIs, faculty, coaches, and others. You can make a report to OPHD using the online reporting webform on ophd.berkeley.edu. Have questions about the UC SVSH Policy or the Responsible Employee reporting obligations? Contact OPHD at 510-643-7985 or ask_ophd@berkeley.edu, or find more information at ophd.berkeley.edu.
